WHAT ROLE FOR PUBLIC AUTHORITIES? -- INTRODUCTION.

Lennart Levi, MD, PhD
Emeritus Professor of Psychosocial Medicine; Member of the Swedish Parliament 2006-2010.

EU Conference ”Investing in Well-being at Work – Addressing Psychosocial Risks in Times of Change.” Tuesday, 23 November 2010, at 10.15 – 13.00. The Square, rue des Arts, 1000 Brussels.
OPTIONS FOR GOVERNMENT INTERVENTIONS

- Legislation, ordinances
- Supervisory control
- Regulation of working hours
- Occupational health services
- Horizontal & vertical cooperation/integration
- Development of health promotion skills
- Research & Development
- Promotion of collective agreements
- Mandatory OH education for future managers
"Demand-control-support"-model

(Karasek, Theorell & Johnson)
"Effort-Reward-Imbalance"-model (ERI)

Overinvolvement

High effort

Low reward

Intrinsic

Extrinsic

Demands

Salary
Appreciation
Security
Career opportunities

(Johannes Siegrist)
FACILITATING BETTER EVIDENCE USE
(PIU, 2000; Bullock et al., 2001)

• Encourage collaboration between internal analytical services;
• Co-locate policy makers and internal analysts;
• Integrate analytical staff into policy development processes;
• Link R&D strategies to departmental business plans;
• Cast external researchers more as partners than as contractors;
• Second more university staff into government;
• Train staff in evidence use.